KENTUCK.

THE subscriber has just received into his new & three story Warehouse, on Main-street, in Lexington, (Kent.) built principally for the purpose of shipping of his tobacco crop, which is fitted up in the best style, in the centre of the town. He offers his services to the merchants and manufacturers of the western country, as a Commission Merchant; will receive Goods on consignment, to be sold by the package or piece, and purchase and ship the proceeds of this country. His long residence in this place, and general acquaintance with the citizens of the state, together with his experience in shipping the produce of the country, will enable him to render satisfaction to his correspondents.

The present crop of Tobacco is very promising, and none can doubt but that it will be of the first quality—ought not to be attempted after the first day of April.

FROM THE CANADIAN COURANT.

Mr. Monroe.

In the Liberal & decided manner which has distinguished your Excellency's public conduct, you have declared your determination to oppose the introduction of the slave trade into the territory of Louisiana. This determination has been hailed with joy by the friends of humanity throughout the United States, and has been considered as a pledge that you will not suffer the principles of the Declaration of Independence to be violated by the citizens of Louisiana.

Sir, the Legislature of Louisiana have passed a law, which, in effect, establishes the slave trade in that territory. By the 10th section of the act, it is provided, that "any person residing within the limits of this state, may introduce into the same, from any other state or territory of the United States, any negro or mulatto slave, the property of such person, which such slave owned at the time of his removal to this state, and may retain such slave as a slave, or sell or dispose of such slave to any person residing within the limits of this state, in the same manner as such person might do in the state from which such slave was brought."

Sir, this law is a direct violation of the principles of the Declaration of Independence, and of the Constitution of the United States. It is a law which will encourage the citizens of the United States to purchase slaves in the adjoining states, and carry them into Louisiana, for the purpose of selling them to the citizens of that territory. It is a law which will encourage the citizens of the United States to kidnap free negroes, and carry them into Louisiana, for the purpose of selling them as slaves. It is a law which will encourage the citizens of the United States to steal slaves from their masters, and carry them into Louisiana, for the purpose of selling them to the citizens of that territory.

Sir, I am a native citizen of the United States. I am a republican. I am a friend to the principles of the Declaration of Independence, and of the Constitution of the United States. I am a friend to the principles of the Declaration of Independence, and of the Constitution of the United States. I am a friend to the principles of the Declaration of Independence, and of the Constitution of the United States brightest hue whatever tongue here. Bid her not shed one tear of sorrow to sully a heart so true heard and light But balmy drops of the red grape borrow To bathe the relic from mine eyes in night.

When the light of my song is o'er
Oh carry my harp to your ancient hall

Keep this cup which is now overflowing
To grace your revels when dark it rests

Hang it up at that friendly door
Where weary travellers love to call

Never O never its tales bestowing
Eclipse that healthy has seldom blest

Then if some hand the wound forsaken
Revive its soft notes when passion is strong

Let broken vows warm deceived lover
To her he adores shall bathe its brow

& let one thought of its master awaken
Your warmest smiles for the child of song

Oh then my spirit shall around thalls hover
And hallow each drop that foams for him
